AMERICAN EAGLE PROOF COINS

A collectible opportunity of great significance.
Produced to newly established mintage limits, 1990 American Eagle proofs are an important and affordable collectible issue for both seasoned collectors and beginning hobbyists.

1. THE 1990 AMERICAN EAGLE PROOF GOLD COIN in limited mintage.

A tribute to America's numismatic heritage, the obverse features majestic "Liberty" as designed by Augustus Saint-Gaudens for the classic 1907-1933 double-eagle. The reverse is graced with Miley Busiek's modern impression of a family of American Eagles. Each proof is struck at least twice with special dies to achieve a frosted image against a mirror-like background.

The only 1990-dated gold proof coin issued by the United States Mint.

2. THE 1990 AMERICAN EAGLE PROOF SILVER COIN in limited mintage.

The obverse of this one-ounce silver proof features the historic "Walking Liberty" design by A.A. Weinman. The reverse offers a beautiful Heraldic Eagle Crest by U.S. Mint engraver John Mercanti.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
UNITED STATES MINT

A Message from Donna Pope, the Director of the Mint of the United States.

*It is a privilege to present
you with the 1990
United States Mint Catalogue of Coins and Medals.*

Dear Friends of the United States Mint,

To say that we are busy here at the Mint is something of an understatement—as of this writing, we have produced billions of 1990-dated coins for circulation and will produce literally billions more before the end of the year.

Of course, though the production of circulating coinage is our primary function, it is only part of an ambitious agenda undertaken by the Mint to serve the public this year.

As many of you already know, the Dwight D. Eisenhower Centennial Coin program was launched in January of this year. The Treasurer of the United States and I participated in the presentation ceremony, held in front of the Eisenhower Gettysburg, Pennsylvania home that is featured on the coin's reverse. Only a few weeks later, standing on the deck of the aircraft carrier USS DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, it was my privilege to present the carrier's commanding officers with Eisenhower commemorative coins.

Events like these remind me of the special significance that these commemoratives carry—not only do they mark a special occasion in our history, but they are the currency of a common national heritage that we hold dear. Since the January launch, hundreds of thousands of you have joined the celebration by purchasing an Eisenhower coin. Please accept my personal thanks. And, if you have not yet purchased your Eisenhower Commemorative Coin, please do so today.

As proud as I am of the Eisenhower Centennial coin program, there is another source of pride from the Mint that deserves special mention here.

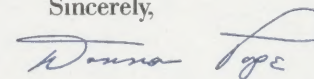

The 1990 American Eagle Proof Coins, magnificent proof versions of the Eagle gold and silver bullion coins, are ready for delivery to you. In a previous mailing, I described the most compelling attributes of these brilliant collectible treasures—the mintages fixed in advance for the first time ever, and a special low price for the Four-Coin Set. Please consider these beautiful coins for your personal ownership or for a very special gift.

Earlier this year, the U.S. Mint conducted research with both purchasers and non-purchasers of U.S. Mint products. I would like to share with you one of the key findings from the research program. One group of collectors after another told us they thought the Mint's offerings were "...of the highest quality in every respect...beautifully done and nicely packaged." You can imagine how rewarding it was for me to hear these comments.

With that, I offer you the United States Mint Catalogue of Coins and Medals. This year's Catalogue is a celebration of all that is good about collecting.

Please enjoy it.

Sincerely,

Donna Pope
Director of the Mint
of the United States

PS. As of the time I am writing this letter, all the options for the 1990 American Eagle Proof Coin issue are available. By the time you receive this Catalogue in the mail, some options may have been sold out. Please order today!
